Intelligent Infusion Systems

NATICK, MA – March 6, 2016 – Zyno Solutions, experts in providing intelligent IV infusion systems, will feature the Z-800F IV Infusion Pump at this year's Managed Health Care Associates (MHA) Business Summit, March 7-9 in Las Vegas, NV.

The Z-800F is the latest large volume infusion pump in a robust product portfolio of IV infusion systems from Zyno Solutions. The Z-800F has an established history of reliability and durability making it a strong long term investment. Focused on the on the US alternate care market the Z-800F has seen significant growth in the long-term care pharmacy, home care and oncology markets. This pump's simplicity of use, proven durability, and advanced features has made it the preferred product chosen for these markets.

The Z-800F has been designed to be a full-featured, full-performance, state-of-the-art IV infusion pump. Additionally the Z-800F includes; set based anti-free-flow protection and standard pump based free-flow-protection, the ability to program up to eight clinician defined infusion protocols, configurable menus, upgradeable software, and an easy-to-use interface. The Z-800F has been developed with input from users to meet the challenging reliability, durability and training needs of long-term care pharmacy providers.

“At Zyno Solutions we are excited to show Z-800F infusion pump to our MHA partners.” said Steve Watkins, general manager and executive vice president of Zyno Solutions. “The Z-800F is known for its durability and safety features and combined with the ability to upgrade software when new enhancements become available; it really makes this an excellent solution for long-term care pharmacies and other alternate care providers.”
